Terms of Service

Last updated: 15 July 2026

1. Provider information

This website is operated by [full legal entity name], with registered office at [full address], email: email@example.com (“SABRE Consulting”). Before publication, add applicable company registration, tax and mandatory business details.

2. Scope

These terms govern access to and use of SABRE Consulting’s public website. By using the website, you accept these terms. Any professional services are governed exclusively by a separate written agreement.

3. Content and no professional advice

Website content is provided for general information only. It is not technical, legal, financial or other professional advice and does not constitute a binding offer. Decisions concerning an IT environment require an assessment of its specific circumstances.

4. Acceptable use

You must not use the website unlawfully, interfere with its operation, attempt unauthorised access, introduce malicious code or use automated systems that impose an unreasonable load.

5. Intellectual property

Unless stated otherwise, the website’s original text, graphics, branding, structure and materials belong to [rights holder] or are used under licence. You may not reproduce, modify or distribute them beyond what the law permits without written authorisation.

6. External links

The website may link to external services. SABRE Consulting does not control those services and is not responsible for their content, availability or practices.

7. Availability and liability

The website is provided as available and may be changed, suspended or withdrawn. To the extent permitted by law, SABRE Consulting does not guarantee that content is always complete, current or error-free.

8. Privacy, governing law and changes

Our processing of personal data is described in the privacy policy. These terms are governed by [applicable law], with disputes subject to [competent courts, without affecting mandatory protections].

9. Contact form and acceptable submissions

The contact form is provided for genuine enquiries. You must not submit unlawful, malicious, misleading, abusive, bulk, or automated content, attempt to bypass safeguards, or use the form to disrupt the service. Limited technical monitoring and operational logging may be used to protect the site and investigate abuse, as described in the Privacy Policy.

10. Message delivery and temporary recovery

Electronic delivery cannot be guaranteed to be uninterrupted, timely, or error-free. When configured, the site creates a protected temporary recovery copy while attempting delivery, deletes it after confirmed delivery, and may retain a failed message for a limited period so an authorised administrator can retry or delete it. This mechanism is not a guarantee that every message will be received or preserved. For urgent matters, use a verified alternative contact channel.

TODO — legal approval required: confirm that these delivery limitations are appropriate for the business and consistent with mandatory consumer and professional obligations.
